Alterations of Cruise

RBQ reserves the right to alter the cruise itinerary at any time without prior notice. At any given moment there are likely to be "trouble spots" which include but is not limited to low customer demand, adverse weather conditions, RBQ mechanical and bridge infrastructure issues that may also create hazards, delays or event cancelations of scheduled cruises.

RBQ Captains reserve the right to alter cruise course as they may see fit. The U.S. Department of State and other similar government agencies regularly issue advisories and warnings to travelers giving details of local conditions in specified cities and countries according to the agency's perception of risks to travelers. RBQ strongly recommends that passengers and their travel professionals obtain and consider such information when making travel decisions. In such cases, passengers will be able to reschedule cruises to a future date based on availability if they have not disembarked with ship.

Forced Majeure

No liability can be accepted by RBQ where the contract is affected by "force majeure". "Force Majeure" is any event that we could not, even with due care, foresee or avoid. These events include but are not limited to war, riot, civil or industrial disputes/strikes, natural disaster, fire, flood, earthquake, acts of God, terrorism, nuclear disaster, adverse weather, government action, technical problems with transportation or other events outside our control.

The ship's captain may refuse transportation to any passenger or may require any passenger to disembark who, in the sole discretion of the ship's captain, is believed to be dangerous to himself or herself, or others, or disturbs RBQ's other passengers or crew or under the influence of a controlled substance. Such passenger may be left at the loading dock without any liability to RBQ. RBQ shall not be required to refund any portion of the fare paid by any passenger who must leave the ship prematurely for any of the reasons set forth in this paragraph or who voluntarily disembarks or leaves the ship for any other reason, nor shall it be responsible for lodging, medical care expenses, meals, return transportation or other expenses incurred by the passenger.

If own alcohol is found to have been consumed a corkage charge of $75 will be levied and the captain has the right to terminate the cruise. I'm not sure why this sentence is necessary.
